Working Student (m/w/d) - Product Management

(Location: Ennepetal)

A place where you matter
We offer you an exciting challenge with interesting prospects in the field of global Product management and Business Development.

A job that matters: your tasks
- You have experience in software development (Python, Tableau, Alteryx, KNIME, etc.)
- You help make the global development of our products' value creation more transparent
- You conduct market, customer, and competitor analyses
- You analyze processes and collect necessary information
- You support the interfaces between product management, business development, production sites, and other departments

An experience that matters: your skills
- Student in information technology, business or a related field
- Programming skills in Python or other programming languages
- Experience with common BI tools (Power BI, SAP BI, etc.)
- Good technical understanding, as well as structured thinking and strong analytical skills
- Very good English skills, which you are able to apply in technical contexts
- Experience with common MS Office applications and knowledge of SAP
- You are flexible and work independently, with a strong team spirit and a results-oriented approach

A workplace that matters: our offering
- Best opportunities in a globally operating company with a family culture
- Attractive remuneration package and flexible working hours
- Hybrid working model

Interested?
Feel free to apply:
jobs.dormakaba.com

Jetzt bewerben!

dormakaba Deutschland GmbH
Business Development & Support

Start Date: As soon as possible

Point of Contact:
Trayana Baturova
Tel: 02333 793-1633
trayana.baturova@dormakaba.com

The position can also be filled by suitably qualified candidates with disabilities.